PRIVACY POLICY

ADIYOGI JNANA FOUNDATION

Last Updated: 10 August 2026

1. Introduction

ADIYOGI JNANA FOUNDATION respects privacy and is committed to responsible handling of personal information collected through its website.

2. Information We May Collect

Depending on the service, we may collect name, email, mobile number, address, date of birth, education, occupation, skills, emergency contact, volunteer information, employment information, photographs, camera-captured photographs, digital signatures, thumb-impression images, identity/address/qualification documents, resumes, donation information and transaction references.

3. How We Use Information

Information may be used to process membership, volunteer, employment, CSR and donation requests; issue receipts; communicate with applicants and donors; verify submissions; maintain records; provide requested services; meet legal, regulatory and accounting requirements; improve website functionality; and prevent fraud or misuse.

4. Sensitive Documents

Identity documents, signatures, thumb-impression images and employee records require particular care. Access should be limited to authorized personnel who need the information for the relevant purpose.

5. Consent and Lawful Processing

Where consent is required, appropriate consent mechanisms may be used. Where processing is permitted or required under applicable law, information may be processed on that basis.

6. Sharing of Information

We do not sell personal information. Information may be shared with authorized Foundation personnel, relevant service providers, payment or technology providers where necessary, professional advisers where appropriate, and authorities where legally required.

7. Payment Information

The Foundation should not collect or store full card numbers, CVV numbers, passwords or banking authentication credentials through ordinary website forms. Payment transactions may be processed by third-party providers subject to their policies.

8. Data Retention

Personal information may be retained for as long as reasonably necessary for the relevant purpose, legal obligations, accounting, dispute resolution, security or legitimate organizational requirements.

9. Data Security

We take reasonable technical and organizational measures appropriate to the nature of the information. However, no electronic system can be guaranteed completely secure.

10. Rights and Grievance

Subject to applicable law and its implementation, individuals may have rights concerning their personal data, including rights relating to access, correction, withdrawal of consent, grievance redressal and other applicable rights. Requests may be sent to info@adiyogijnanafoundation.in.

11. Children

Where a service involves children, information should be submitted by a parent, guardian or other legally authorized person where required by applicable law.

12. Cookies

The website may use cookies and similar technologies for functionality, security, analytics and preferences. See the Cookie Policy.

13. Changes

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. The latest version will be published on this page.
